ABOUT MUSTARD

Mustard is an organisation that exists to transform lives through Jesus in schools. We do this through our Student Movement consisting of student-led Lunchtime Groups, and our Schools Programs that are aimed at exploring faith and life in big group presentations.

Mustard Student Movement

The Mustard Student Movement is a movement of young people committed to living out their faith at school. The primary expression of the Student Movement is through Lunchtime Groups, where communities of Christian students gather together weekly, explore ideas of faith and life, and encourage one another to live it out in action. Mustard recruits Student Leaders to run these Lunchtime Groups and then we empower, equip and encourage them to be leaders for Jesus in their schools.

Schools Programs

Mustard's Schools Programs are big group presentations which may be in the form of a chapel service, an extended presentation with discussion or a program that is integrated into a faith week. We take the cultural norms young people face today – from mental health to social media to identity and present them with a Christian world view. The goal is to involve the Lunchtime Group from the school or other Christians, so that students have a Christian connection in the school after the program is over.

ABOUT THE POSITION

As the Student Movement Director, your role is oversee Mustard’s Student Movement across three states and to lead the movement in Victoria. The role involves recruiting students to start up Lunchtime Groups in schools, connecting existing groups into the Student Movement, supporting leaders of groups with mentoring and training, pursuing local ministry partnerships and networking with churches and schools to build up an engaged and dynamic Student Movement that achieves our mission of “Students leading Students to Jesus”.
